

Computer Corner

By Jim Jeup
04/01

A friend sent me a WordPerfect document through Email. I have Windows 2000 and cannot get the material printed. What can I do to overcome this predicament?

Windows 2000 is your operating system. Do you have Microsoft Word (or MS Office)? If you have Word, open the file in Word and print it from there (it should convert the document for you). A better solution is for your friend to save the document in "Rich Text Format" (.rtf). Anyone with the Windows Operating System can read .rtf files in WordPad (native to all Windows systems).